Clarksville, as a tobacco market cannot be injured by the passage of the bill. We are in the heart of the tobacco region and therefore we can compete successfully for the trade. The chief thing we need here now is half a dozen factories so that when the tobacco leaves Clarksville it will be prepared for any market in the world. It is now a certainty that the tobacco tax will be abolished and then the market will also be open to the farmers to sell their tobacco in any form to whom they will, and this of itself will add thousands of hogsheads to our sales.
